We are a new generation.
Tormented by un-
ceasing questions.
Asking where and how
and when and why.
They scream at us from
all directions
No matter where in the world we go.
Who was I?
How did I fit in?
The never ending
search for identity
Guided our high school days.
How did we find ourselves?

HIGH
SCHO

Did we find ourselves?
. . . in pressures and prejudices incurred on a crowded bus?
. . . in our patriotic pride when our flags were raised?
. . . in elections to honorary positions?
. . . in membership of the silent majority?
. . . in organizational club membership?
. . . in playing a role of make believe?

. . . in the odds of the draft lottery?
. . . in a parent-
approved report
card?
. . . in being a small,
noiseless cog in
a noisy wheel?
. . . in a thankless
service to a teacher or student?
. . . in rebellion of established authority?
. . . in the disappointment of defeat?

TEMP

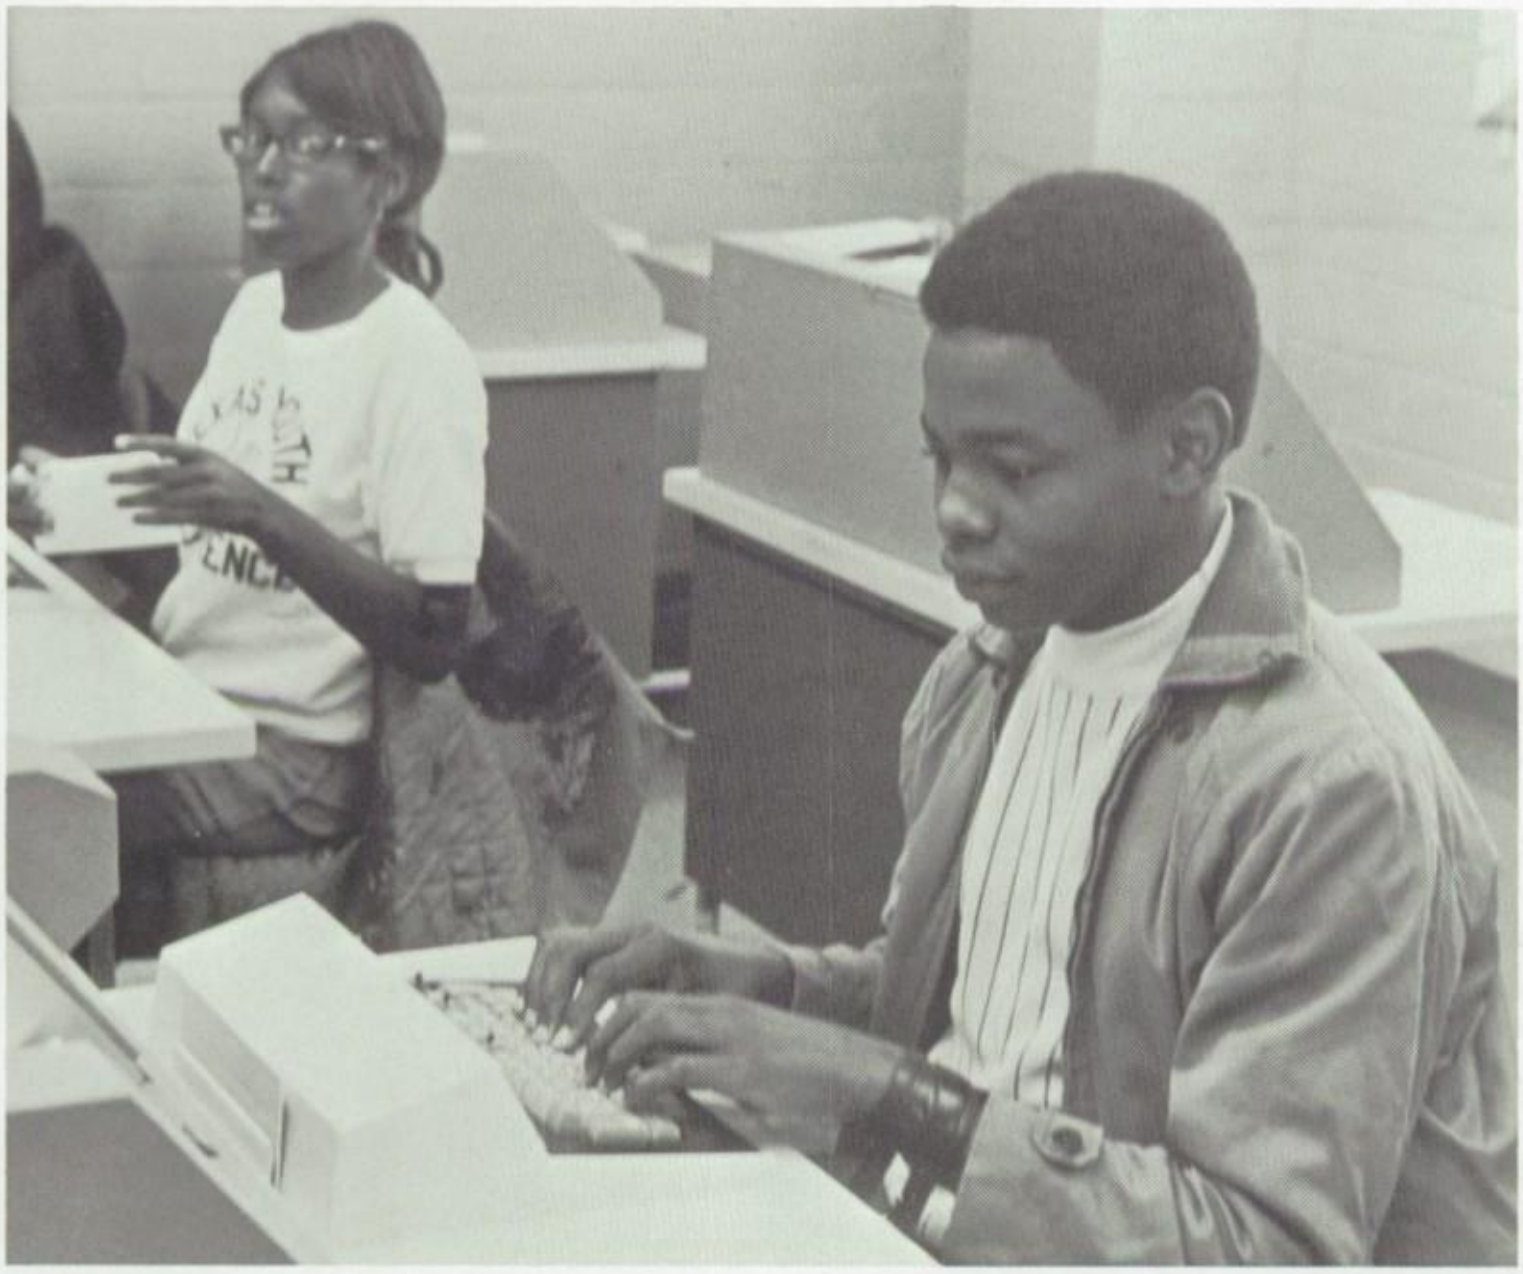
K.H.S.
KANGA

At Killeen High School
we sought many answers.
. . . to mechanisms of a key punch.
. . . to unsolvable chemistry problems.
. . . to ideas of artful expression.
. . . to methods of showing a prize-winning animal.
. . . to why MacBeth was a MacBeth.
. . . to various methods of book reporting.
. . . to complicated geometry angles.
. . . to unpredictability of teachers on duty.
. . . to interpretative analysis of political cartoons.
. . . to carburetor adjustment.
. . . to bills of lading, checkbooks and ledgers.
. . . to physical fitness.
. . . to a "Wildcat jinx".



In answering the questions, we should have looked at a few hard facts of Killeen High School.
We were no longer rural, but sub-urban.
We began school with the largest enrollment ever.
We offered at least eighty-five different courses of study.
We were members of all ethnic groups.
Some were employed forty hours a week.
Some of us were multi-lingual.
Some of us were stationed here once before.
We lived in a once-a-month payday society.

Some of us were in love.
Some of us were married.
Some of us assumed parenthood.
Some of us experienced the death of a family member.
Some of us were on probation.
Some of us were rejected.
Some of us rebelled.
We lived in a community with a controversial
coffeehouse.
We felt the effect of a war in VietNam.

Did the questions change, did the answers differ because we were a transit body?
Did we ever completely answer,
"Who was I?"
As we turn these pages
reminiscent of the passing of 1969-70, let us look for identification—through the different associations, admirations, athletics and effects we felt as members of a new generation.

Though his long days were filled with conferences, paperwork, faculty meetings and endless committee meetings, Mr. Patterson always found time to talk with his students. In the cafeteria or student lobbies eating popcorn, or in his office, which was always open to students, he constantly sought the students' ideas on how he and they could better KHS. His support of all KHS functions made students feel their efforts were appreciated. A devoted family man and civic leader, he always kept KHS students in his thoughts.

Office machines play an important part in the instructional program of the VOE. Here Kathy McDaniels and Donna Everitt use the A.B. Dick mimeograph machine to duplicate copies.

Clicking typewriters and totaling adding machines could be heard throughout the halls of KHS the year long. Bookkeeping, record keeping, and typing students were taught the vocational, as well as the personal, uses of these practical courses. In commercial law, emphasis was placed on the meaning and operation of law in everyday living. Limericks, written by shorthand students about terms frequently used, were an effective way of developing skills and emphasizing their importance.

Team-teaching and fused English were two new terms facing the students as they registered for English this year. These two programs were in the vanguard of the new programs which made their appearance at KHS this year. English classes pondered Macbeth's soliloquies acted out Julius Caesar, and read Thurber, while grammarians pondered "What difference does it make? You know what I mean."

Foreign Language

Under the direction of five foreign language teachers, students were instructed in how to bridge the gap between people and countries. ROTC

Innumerable and invaluable services were performed by the Killeen Junior ROTC Cadets. The program can be evaluated as an important first step toward a successful career and mature development. Under the capable and excellent leadership of Lt. Col. (Ret) Robert Zimmerman, the KHS ROTC program continued toward excellence and greatness. The Wallaby Debs, a newly organized group of young ladies, represented each company of the school's ROTC program.

The ROTC color guard lowers the colors before a group of students and fellow cadets.

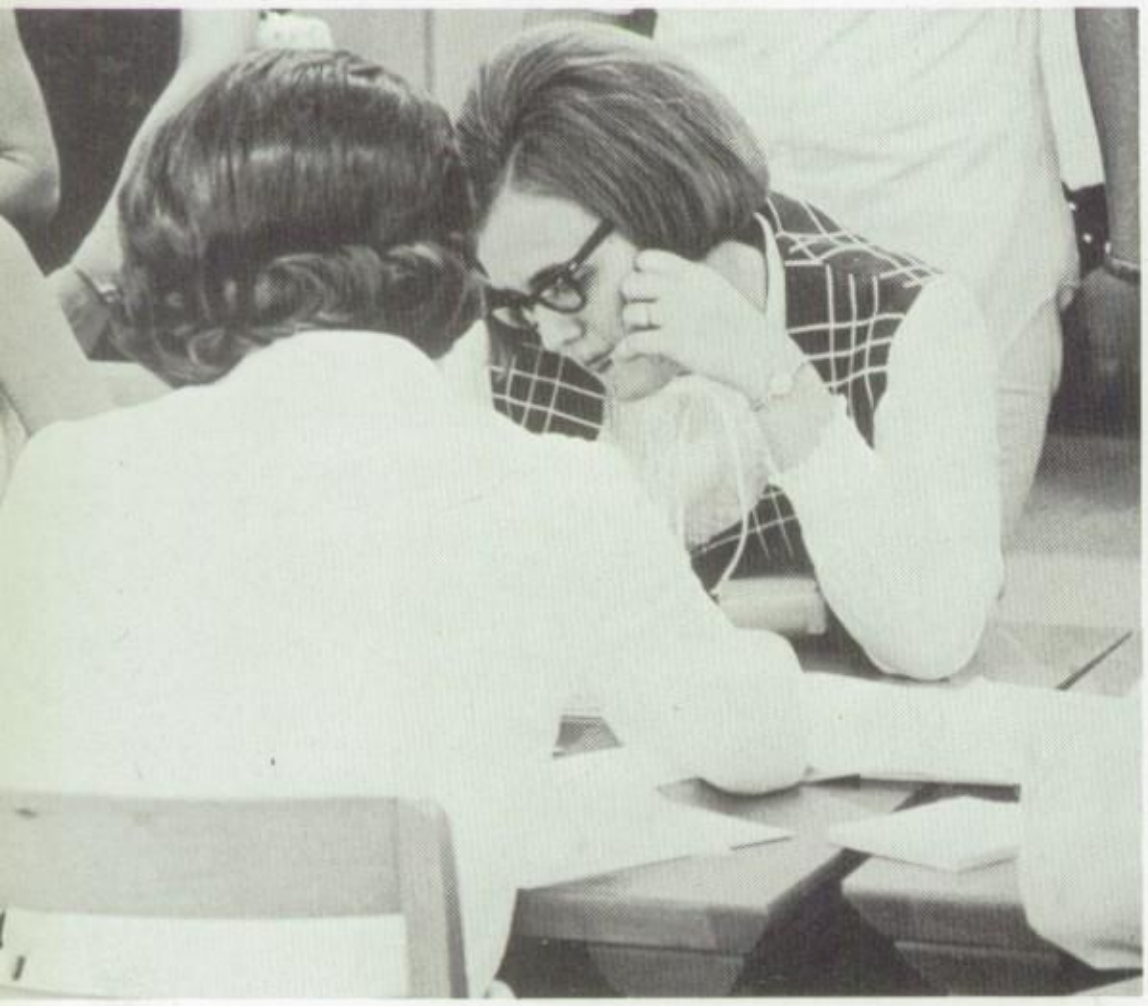
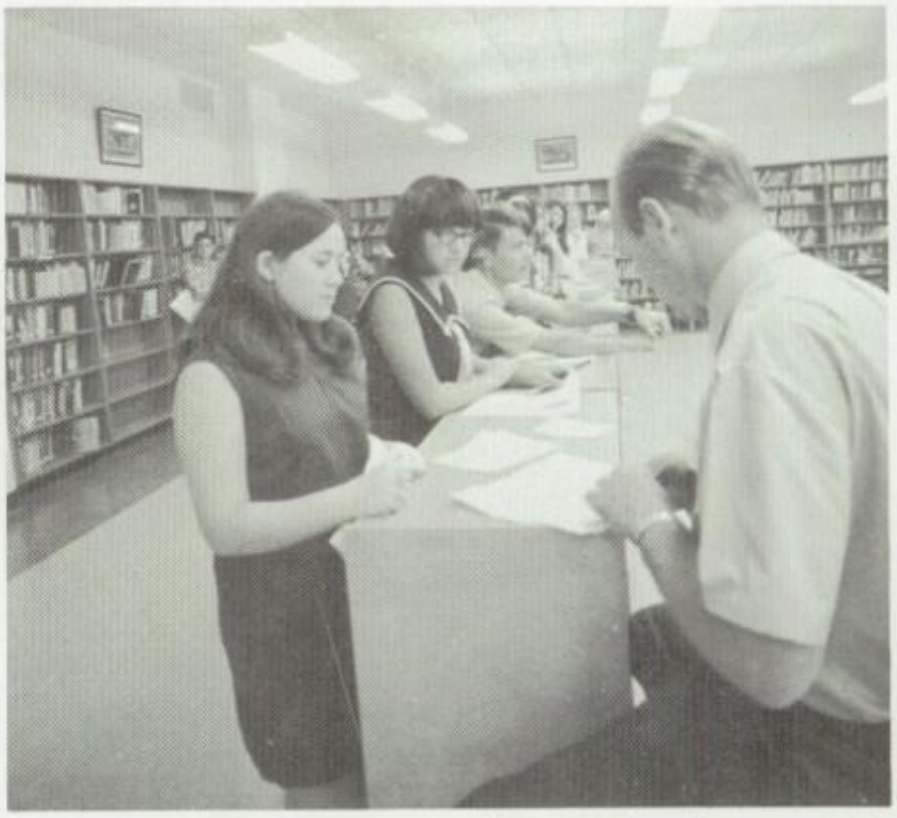
Registration Ushers In 69-70

Registration brings back old friends and memories once more!!!!!!!



All registering students begin the day discussing schedules with the counselors.



Mr. Doughty, Vice-Principal, was the first stop in the long maze of registration.

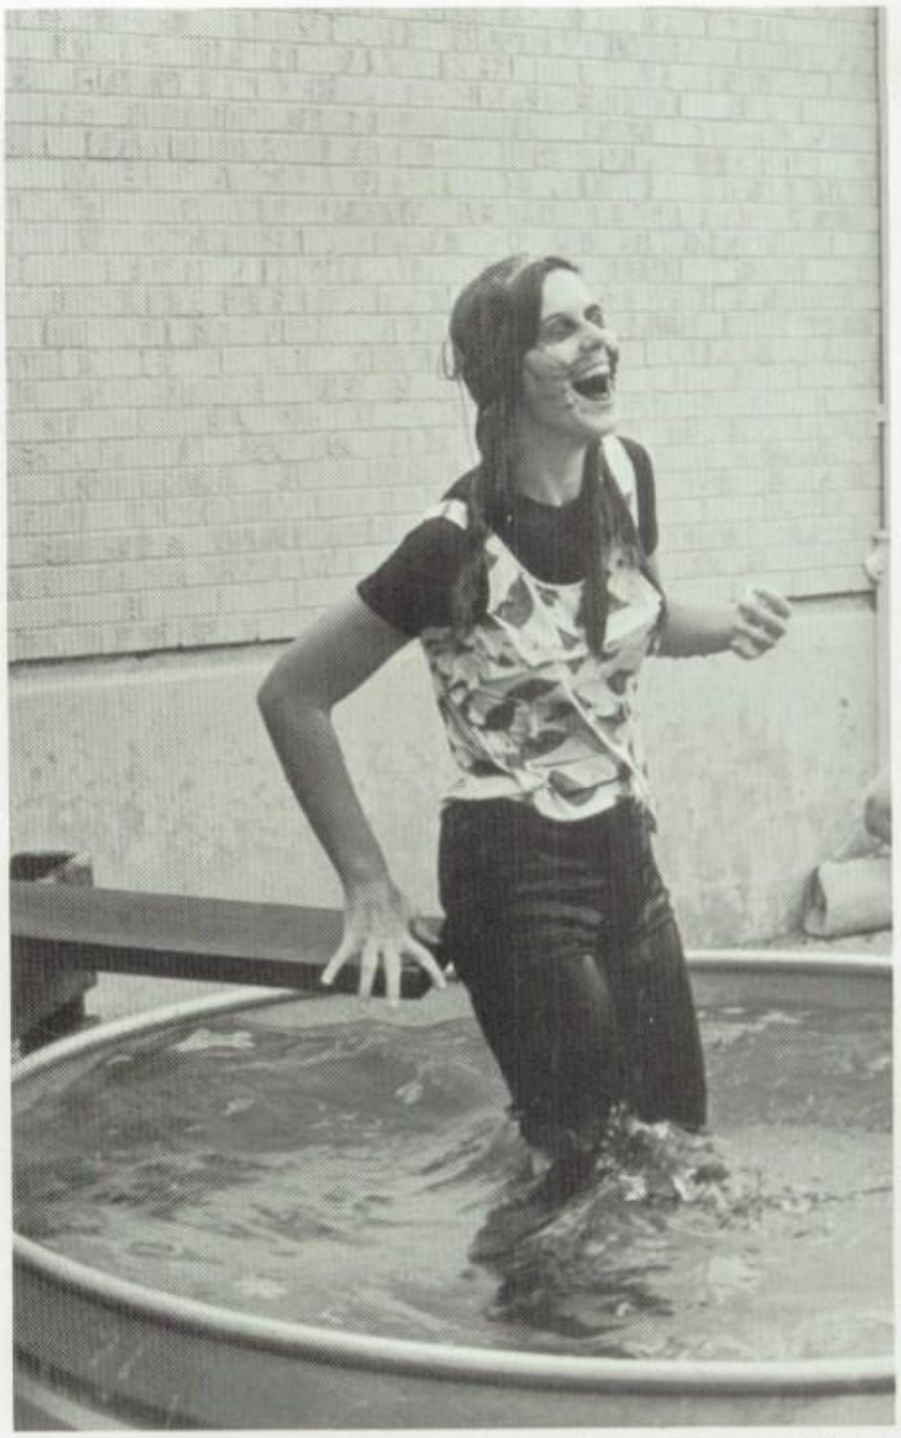
Ushering in a new school year was typified by the tedious ordeal of registration. As students waited for classroom schedules and vehicle registration stickers, faculty members looked on with dismay and anxiety at the coming year; while the students thought of no more sleeping late and meeting earlier curfews.

Registration of students' and faculty's vehicles did not hinder after-school congestion.

Facing the situation with a positive attitude, Mr. Jimmy French lends a helping hand to an ever-confused group of sophomores.

Spirit Located High & Low

Cadet Tom Warren raises the flag during pre-game ceremonies at home games.



A VOE student starts Beat Belton Day with a SPLASH!!!!!!!

Adding a little decorative spirit to the gym is science teacher, Mr. Paul Fannin.

The height of KHS spirit grows before the Belton game.

ROTC usher Bob Saenz directs Mrs. Elizabeth Bigham to the reserved section at Kangaroo Field.

Marky Warren sells "GO ROO" balloons after the Waco High pep rally.

Spirit this year was the best ever, along with the 8-2 record. In past years the ROTC cadets assisted in the football pre-game ceremonies, and this year the tradition was maintained. Along with other traditions, the ROTC helped with the finding of reserved seats at the games. The entire student body built the best bonfire of all time. Completely new this year was the seal on the floor of the gym. This was designed by Mr. Paul Fannin, a new teacher at KHS. Also new to KHS was the "GO ROO" balloons sold for the first time by the Student Speech Society.

Unbelievable Realities

Linda Black poses with escort Mark Fisher after having been presented as one of the Miss Roo finalists.

Clare Wood is congratulated by Mr. Patterson after being crowned Miss Roo for 1969-70.

Trudy Henry, Band Sweetheart, receives a kiss from band Captain Bob Pickering.

Debbie Sublousky, through tears of surprise, smiles happily after being named Killeen's Junior Miss.

Football Sweetheart Yvonne Randolph is congratulated with a kiss from Jack Ashworth.

Winner of the Killeen Junior Miss Creative and Performing Arts Award, Marlin Bryant weeps with joy after being named Miss Congeniality.

We Try Harder to Please

The Maroon and White Bands took turns marching in the different parades. Here the White Band marches in the Fire Prevention Parade.

Fire Queens and Fiery Acts

The highlight of the Fire Prevention Week (October 5-11) was the presentation of Miss Flame, Kathleen Whitby, and her court, Pam Miller and Donna Adams.

Miss Flame of Harker Heights, Lisa Ferguson was also presented at the halftime ceremonies.

On October 3, 1969 Laura Whisenhunt, Miss Flame of 68-69, presented Kathleen Whitby with the traditional fireman's hat.

Jana Arnold and Debbie Engel are a bit surprised at Nancy Boswell's little support in the "ROO REVIEW."

Danny Miller helps Terry Robinson with his Christmas deliveries.

"Togetherness" is the key word in a Junior Miss production.

We Swore to Variety

On a dull Monday morning, November 3, 1969, the "Playboys of Edinburg" shook the halls of KHS and unsuspecting teachers with their wild reverberations.

On December 5, 1969 "A Different Drummer", this year's senior play, which was called an environmental play, was a rewarding experience for long hours of hard work.

Some members of the Roo Review and annual staff pause and reflect before returning home from Trinity University's Journalism Workshop, held September, 27, 1969.

Some members of the Killeen Teen Jury listen intently while being sworn in by Judge Odom.

From the Sublime to the Ridiculous

Couples enjoy the change of pace at the Christmas dance held December 13.

Exams bring on tension; tension brings on frustration; frustration brings on headaches.

The National Honor Society opened its 1970 year with the installation of these officers: Tom Voltin, president; John Shillingburg, vice-president (standing); Debbie Engel, historian; and Helen McCaffrey, reporter. Football season found members running from person to person frantically trying to sell their ten booster ribbons before Friday's game. During the holiday season, NHS members collected food for a needy family and entered a car in the Christmas parade. Second semester found NHS members busy with an assembly to induct new members into the society. There was also an election to determine the boy and girl Most Likely to Succeed, and the spring NHS banquet honoring the faculty and the presentation of the Teacher of the Year.

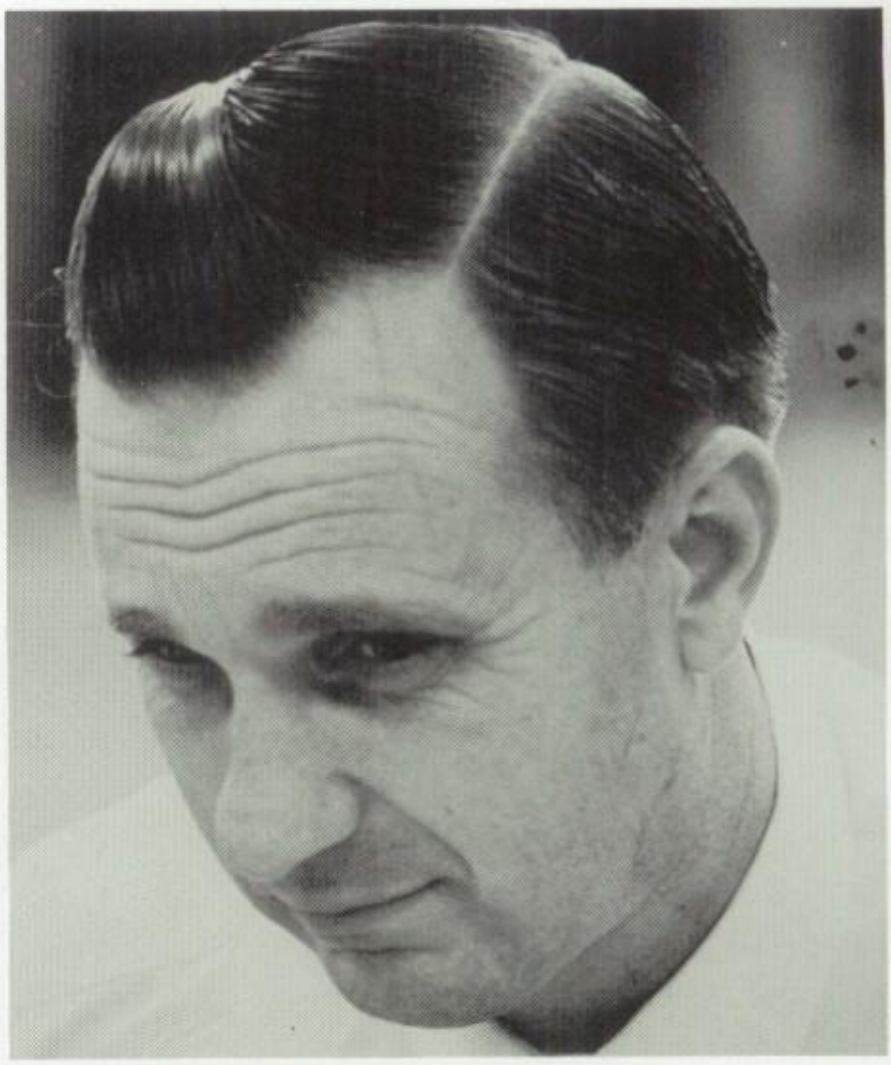
Student Council

The 1969-70 KHS Student Council had as its goal the unification of both the council's and the student body's ideas. Through the council's many functions, there were hopes that the student body would be brought closer to its only representative organization.

As a service to the students, the council sponsored three dances, coming at Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. The council also treated all students to free refreshments prior to Christmas vacation. During Christmas vacation, members of the council volunteered their services to the Killeen Santa Pal Program.

The annual football player's cake auction was held, and with the help of guest auctioneer Mr. Rhett Sargent, netted approximately $750. This money was used to finance the council's year-end service project for the school, which was to be a portable public address system.



Faculty advisor for the student council is Mr. Jimmy French.

Members discuss the possibilities of suggested projects.

Later in the year, the KHS faculty was treated to an early-morning reception, at which entertainment was provided, and a light breakfast was served. An April Talent Show was organized by the council. This project served as both a means of entertainment for the students and an opportunity for students to participate in council activities.

Eighteen seniors were elected by the council as Citizens of the Month during the course of the year. Four members of the council were chosen to represent KHS at the Texas State Student Council Association convention in Austin. Other activities included the revision of the school's present constitution, and the organization of next year's student council officers election.

Thus the 1969-70 Student Council completed a year of service and dedication to the school through the representation of Killeen High School students.

Reflections

The Reflections staff began early this year to put out a bigger and better magazine. In September four members attended an institute at Trinity University in San Antonio. They met with representatives from magazines all over the state. The exchanges of ideas benefited all of the staffs involved.

The staff also made an effort to involve itself more in the activities of the student body. It helped the SSS conduct various contests held during the year. The staff also sponsored a literary contest and awarded prizes to the best poem, prose work, and photograph.

"West Side Story"

The choirs of KHS led an active and exciting year under the guidance of their officers, Tom Priem, president, Steve Killpatrick, vice-president, Sarah Craig, secretary, and Linda DePietro, treasurer. In October "Club Allegro" initiated a very busy year. In November, choir students sold candy and auditioned for All-Region. Later in the year, Soon Pak made All-State Choir. Dr. Ben Henson, guest clinician for the choirs invited the KHS choir to sing at TCU in the spring. The holidays brought more activities—programs for civic clubs and student assemblies. Joy Schappell, choir sweetheart, was presented at the Christmas choir party. On February 21, Solo and Ensemble contest was held. The winning students were presented their medals at the choir banquet held at the end of the year. The year would not be complete without the successful presentation of "West Side Story". This modern "Romeo and Juliet" was a combined effort of the choir and speech departments. Directors were Mrs. Barbara Thomas, Mr. Nick Boltz, and Mr. Ron Hanneman. The student leadership of Tom Priem, musical director, Sarah Craig, dramatic director, and Mike Williamson, technical director was invaluable. Jerry Driskell and Linda DiPietro played the leads as Tony and Maria. The stage featured a black cyclorama with props and overhangings depicting a New York ghetto complete with fire escape, old doors, and roof vents.

Thespians

The International Thespian Society, an educational honor and service organization, at KHS was established for the advancement of the dramatic arts. The aim of the organization was to create in the minds of interested students an appreciation of drama as an art form, and to establish standard of excellence in all phases of dramatic arts in the high school. This year at KHS the Thespian Society sponsored these events: The Go Roo Balloon sale, the trip to see the avant-garde production of MacBeth by the Dallas Civic Theatre, and was the sponsor of the Junior High Speech Tournament held December 13, 1969 at KHS.

The creation of many new characters takes place in this room, as these members exhibit.

Sketchmasters Art Club

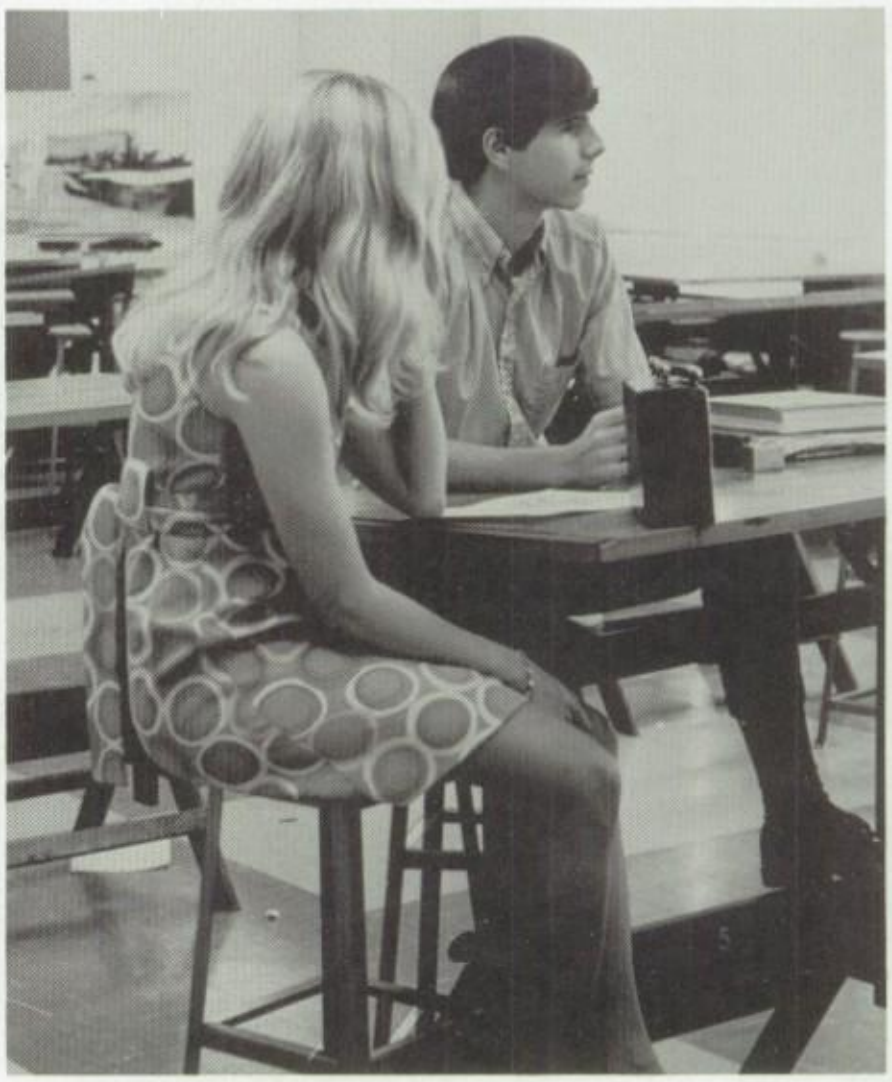
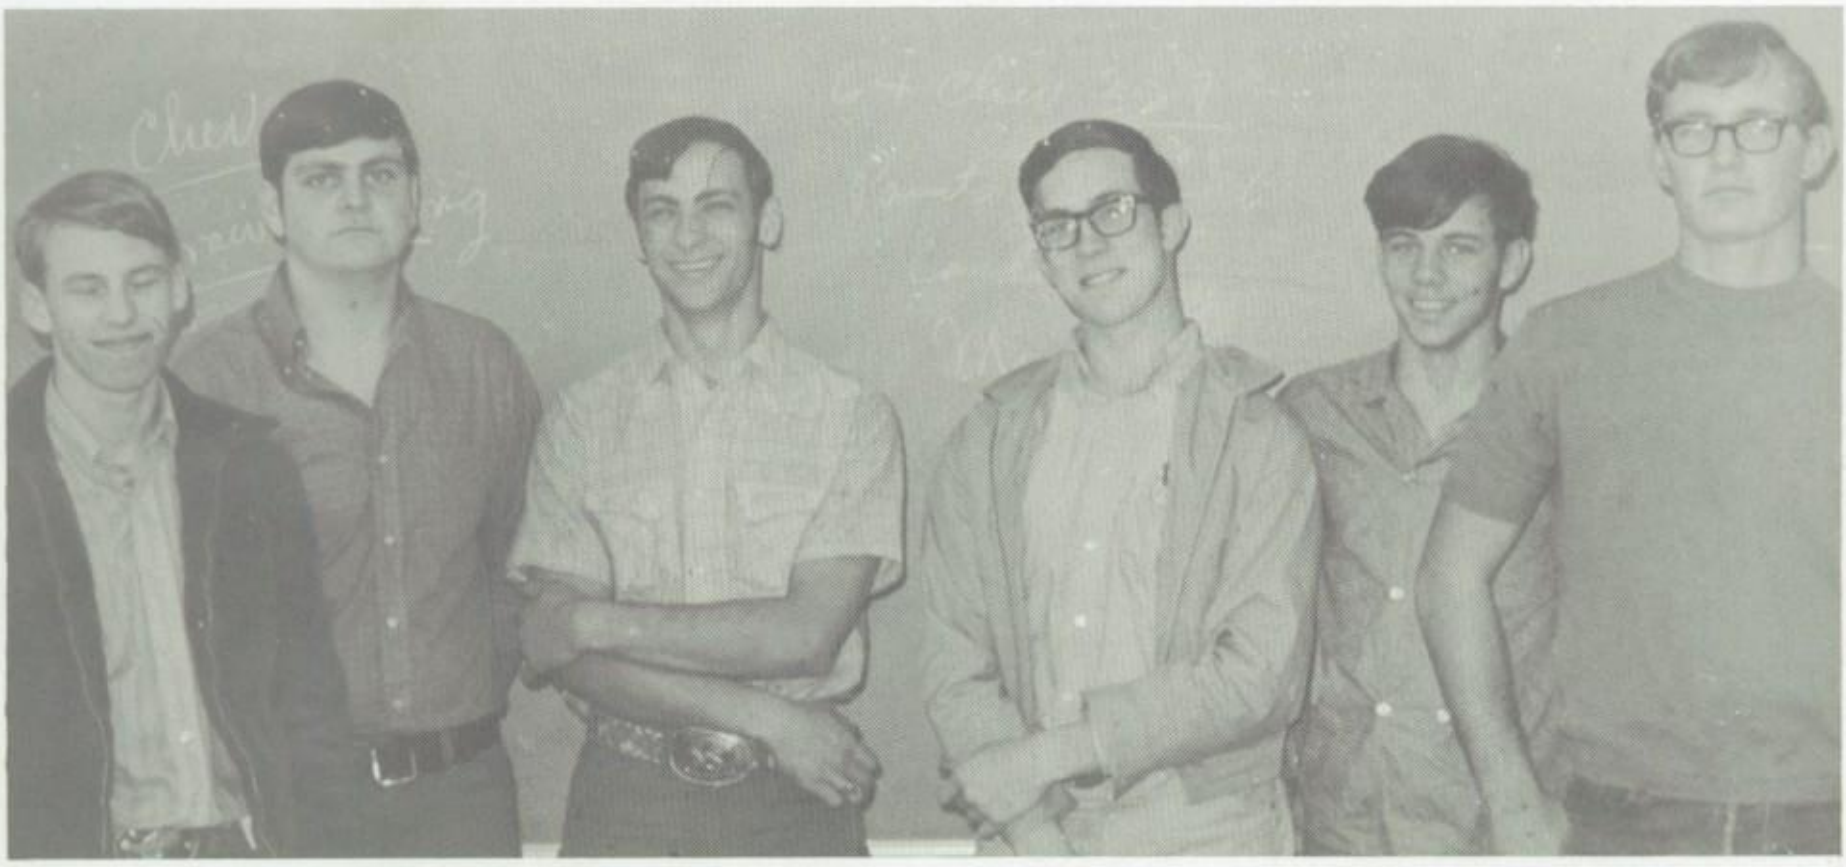
The Sketchmasters Art Club of Killeen High School has endeavored to enlighten and create an awareness in the aesthetic qualities of the visual arts. Many interesting and unique means of expression could be seen in the work of members and students that submitted work in the annual KHS Art Show. Catagories in the art show incompassed the spectrum of the art field from pencil, pen and ink, to oils and acrylics. Prizes were awarded in each division. Mr. Russell Seidenburg, sponsor of the Sketchmasters Art Club, attended the University of Colorado where he received his B.F.A. He has been teaching art at KHS for six years and has done much to promote the artistic spirit in Killeen.



Auto Mechanics



The officers for this year's chapter are, left to right, Dwayne Blansit, vice-president; George Deaton, president; Richard Wallesch, reporter; Gary Johnson, secretary; Johnny Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Chapter 429 of Auto Mechanics sponsored many money making projects during the 1969-70 school year. The members offered students and teachers special discount prices for tune-ups at various times during the year. The earnings from their projects were used to send members to the convention for VICA members.

French Club

Singing "The Marsaillaise," the colorful French national anthem, opened the meetings of the French Club. A busy year was ahead of them, starting with a trip to La Varsovie, a French restaurant in Dallas, that highlighted the month of November. Pom-poms, caramel apples, doughnuts, and various other items were enthusiastically sold by the members in order to raise money for their trip to New Orleans. The club also attended a French Symposium in March at San Antonio. John Shillingburg, president; Barbara Caplan, vice-president; Charlotte Bruton, secretary; Helen McCaffrey, treasurer; Anne Cress, historian; and Mrs. Schneider, sponsor; led the club in their efforts to achieve their goals and gain a richer understanding of the romantic French culture.

Fourth row: Harvey Ayers, Sam Kinslow, Glen Shoemaker, Brad Williams.

Sprechen Sie Deutsch? The German Club does, but that is not all they do. The German Club meets every Tuesday afternoon to learn about Germany, its people, its customs and traditions. They have held bake sales and other money making projects to finance their trips. February 27-28, they went to Austin and had a guided tour through the capitol. Other trips included New Braunfels, Fredricksburg, and Lake Buchanan. During the month of December, the German Club sent packages to a Vietnamese orphanage which had requested help. The members of the German Club with the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Herda Ayers made the 1970 year a good one.

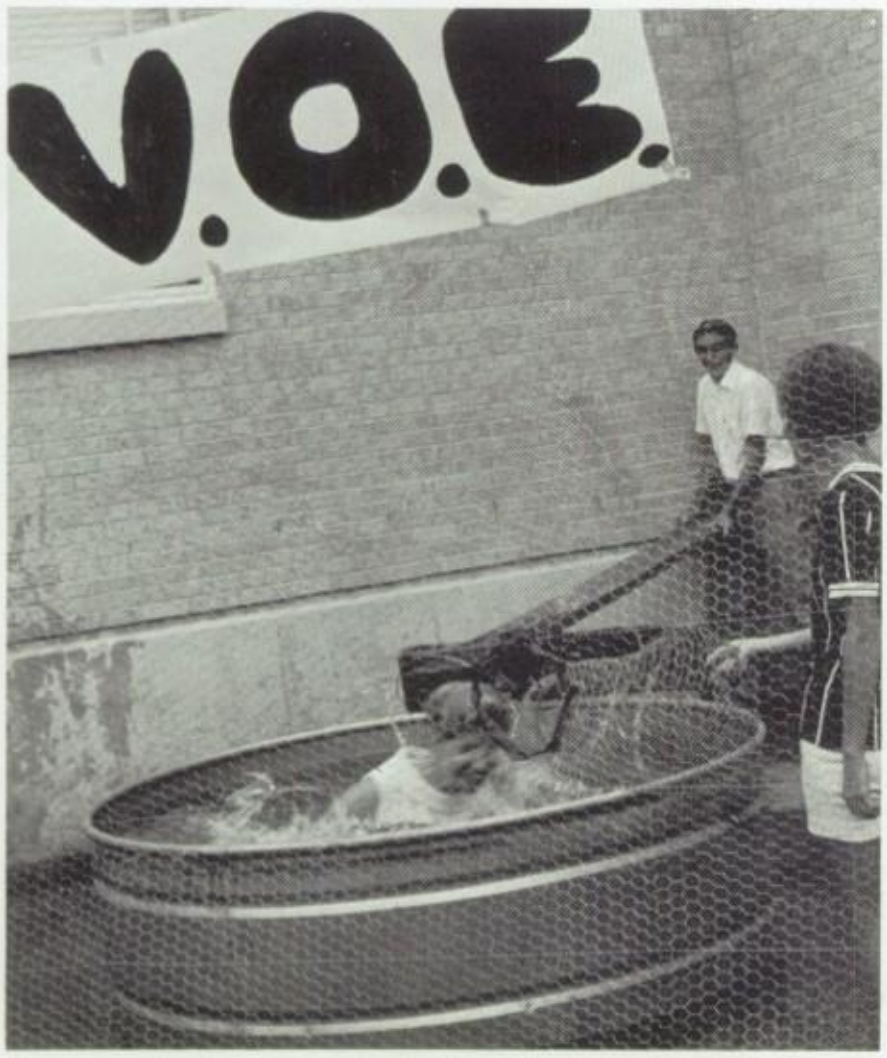
Linda Stone, Miss VOE, worked as a secretary at the city tax office.



VOE Co-ordinator Mrs. Barbara Walker also gets "dunked" by VOE members.

The OEA was an organization that was helpful to employers and people in need. In the fall the members sold caramel apples to KHSers and distributed bags of candy to the faculty. For the holiday season the OEA made felt Christmas stockings for the children in the three area hospitals and gave bags of candy to the men in Darnell Army Hospital. Also they sponsored families at Thanksgiving and Christmas in cooperation with the local Santa Pal program. On February 13, the members delivered Val-O-Grams from the secret and not so secret admirers at KHS. They attended Area 3 conference in Galveston March 6 and 7. Linda Stone, Miss VOE, also competed in the Area contests.

Distributive Education

DE officers are front row: Linda Hoida, treasurer; Paula Boyle, parliamentarian. Second row: Shirley Shaffer, reporter; Virginia Jones, photographer. Third row: Belinda Duncan, vice-president; Barbara Corbin, historian; Cynthia Kazmir, secretary. Back row: Johnny Gonzales, president.

The Killeen High School Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America was an organization for students enrolled in DE classes. The chapter was affiliated with the Texas Association of DECA and with the national organization. Tagline for DECA was "Developing Future Leaders for Marketing and Distribution". KHS was in Area V which was made up of sixty-three chapters. For the second consecutive year the chapter brought home the DECA Promotion Trophy which was given to the area chapter with the best over-all record of activities. Belinda Duncan and Johnny Gonzales were selected Area Students of the Year. Johnny Gonzales won the display contest and Cynthia Kazmir won in advertising. Highlights of the year were the employer-employee banquet and the organization of the DECA Alumni Chapter.

The Big Sound Band

The "Big Sound Band from Kangarooland" this year was a big-sound band indeed. Two hundred and one marchers entertained football crowds at all the Kangaroo football games, as well as acting as the heart of KHS spirit, following and supporting the Roos in their ecstacy and agony of the 69 football season. The last home game of the season saw the Kangaroo Band perform a patriotic Veteran's Day program at half-time. This brought a full house at Kangaroo Stadium to their feet in a ten minute standing ovation, as a large American flag illuminated the darkened field in a fireworks display of red, white, and blue brilliance. The end of the footbal season brought about the beginning of the band's concert season, which included numerous activities. The band was presented in a Christmas concert for the Killeen Public Schools' open house visitors. Members of the band participated in the Area's Solo and Ensemble contests on March 14, and three of the band members Carolyn Hollinger, Judy Boyd, and Tom Voltin were selected to the 1969-70 All Regional Band. Later in the year, the band competed in the UIL playing and sight-reading contest. During marching season, the band received a UIL rating of excellence at marching contest. The band planned a year end trip to Houston and the Astrodomain, where concerts, as well as fun were in store for band members. The Kangaroo Band thus completed another fine year of providing enjoyment as well as service for their school and community.

An active schedule was followed by this year's Future Homemakers of America. The 1969-70 officers were President, Joyce Butler; Vice-President, Candy Anderson; Secretary, Chris Stills; and Parliamentarian, Vicky Winston. The members cleaned and dressed used dolls, for the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department. These dolls were distributed to the less fortunate children at Christmas. The FHA sent money to the Austin State School. The FHA members attended the area meeting and later in the year attended the state convention. A spring style show was the finishing touch for the homemaker's busy year.

This year Marilyn Manfull served as Key Club sweetheart.

The Killeen High School Key Club, sponsored by the downtown Kiwanis Club, developed into one of the most active organizations in the school. The club consisted of 36 young men, 14 seniors, 12 juniors, and 10 sophomores. The club caught the spirit of the football season early in the year, and sponsored many spirit-oriented projects. Among them were a car bash, downtown pep rally, and making yard signs stating "This is the Home of a Fighting Kangaroo", to be placed in all the football player's yards. The signs were also used for other athletic participants, depending upon the season. The club gave the girls a chance to get in on the football act when it staged a powderpuff football game at Kangaroo Field. Shortly after Christmas the Key Club put out a student directory, containing the names, addresses, and phone numbers of all Killeen High School students.

The battle of the 'puffers' pitting the Seniors against the winner of the Junior-Sophomore battle was sponsored by the Key Club.

The second semester saw the club purchase and distribute decals bearing the club's District theme, "Back America". The club held their annual faculty basketball game and helped with the Kiwanis Club's pancake supper later in the year. Throughout the year, the club did many things beneficial to both the school and the community, such as cleaning the school fountain, helping with Killeen's "Orville Moody Day," helping the Kiwanis club run the Kangaroo Field concession stand, participating in the March of Dimes program, providing for needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and attending church as a group. In April, the club attended the district convention in Galveston.

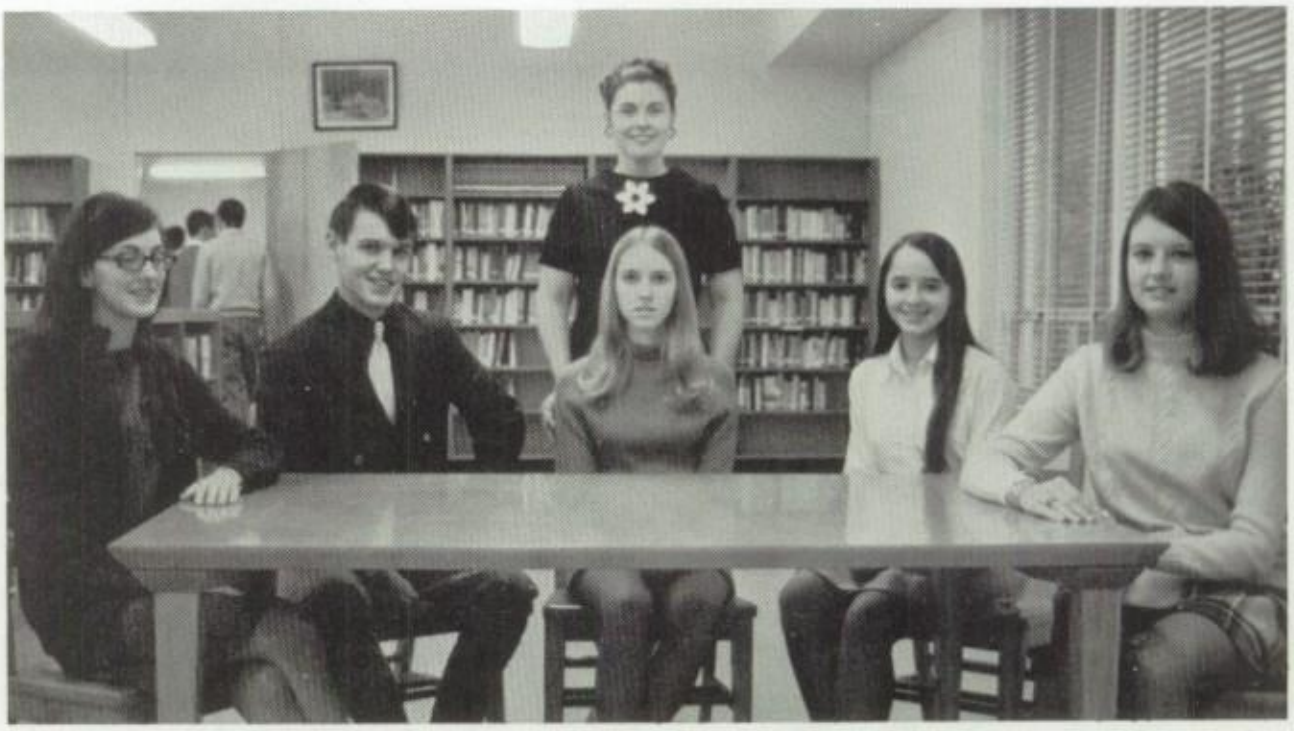
Future Teachers of America



FTA's officers for 69-70 year are: Margaret Pollard, historian; Scott Isdale, vice-president; Diane Knight, president; Beth Carlson, secretary; Debbie Engel, treasurer. Sponsor is Mrs. Kaenzig.

The John E. Little Chapter of Future Teachers of America was under the sponsorship of Mrs. Darlene Kaenzig this year. FTA members led story hour each Saturday morning at the Killeen Public Library, presented the Teacher of the Month award to selected faculty members; and honored those in whose footsteps they will follow by presenting shiny red apples to the teachers. Highlights of the year were the district and state conventions, and the FTA banquet held late in the year.

Changing its name as well as its image, the all new Roo Review began this year facing the problem of providing KHS students with the kind of mature newspaper they deserved. Under the able leadership of sponsor Mrs. Niki Martin, the staff organized and began the task of putting forth such a paper. Unafraid of tackling controversial problems, issues of the Roo Review contained in-depth reports on married students, pollution, rights in the army, and a three part special report on the marijuana situation. In addition to these special features, the Roo Review also covered local and school events, such as an interview with Texas Junior Miss, Debbie Sublousky, as well as complete sports coverage.

"And we have three weeks to finish the book!" Frantic cries of "deadline" could be heard coming from room 21 from September to March. The staff, consisting of 3 seniors, 5 juniors, and 2 sophomores, began work in late August to make the 70 Kangaroo a better yearbook. Many late afternoons and long weekends were spent writing copy and drawing layouts.

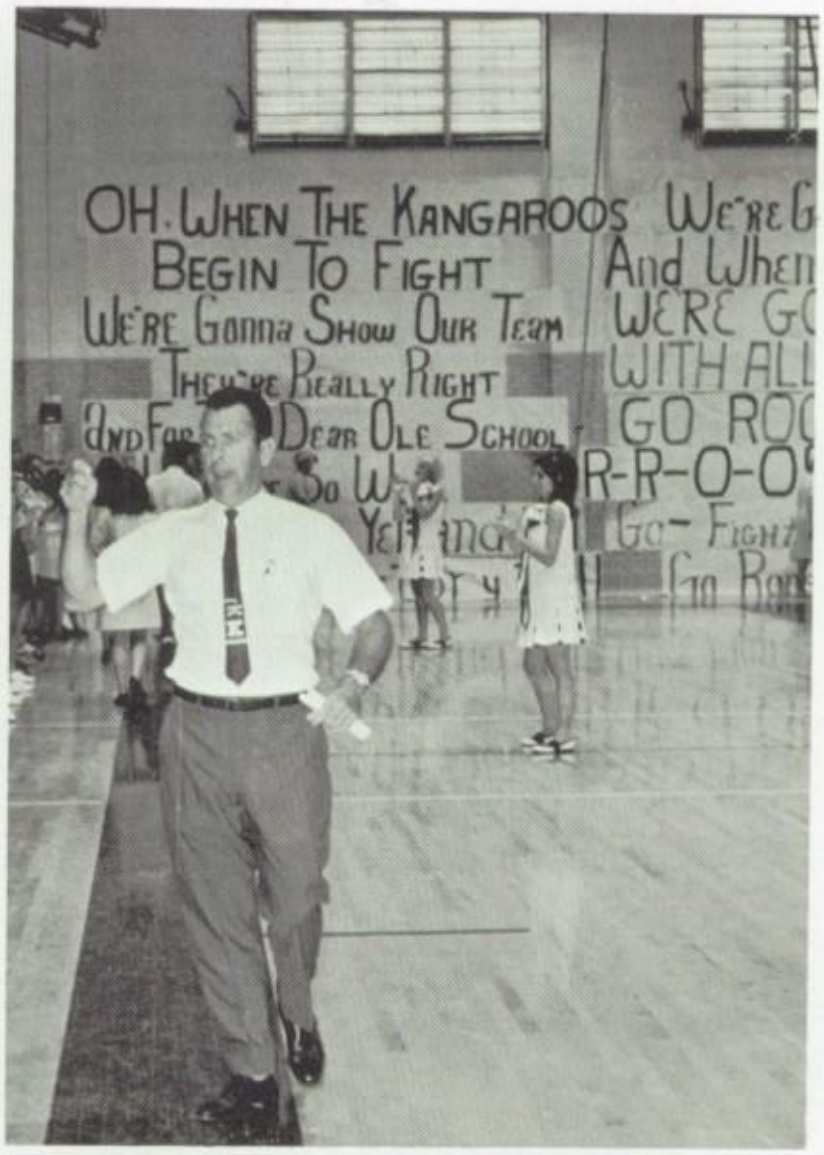
Launch '69 Season



Coaches Are the

Gene Rogers, Killeen Head Athletic Director

The 1969 football season for the Killeen Kangaroos was guided by Coaches Gene Rogers, John Beseda, Ed Cauley, and Max Graham. The record for the season, 8-2, was the best since the arrival of the coaching staff four years ago. Their coaching ability was evident in the 2-8, 6-4, 7-3, and 8-2 records previously attained. Most of the players had competed since junior high and many had played their last year for Killeen. But Killeen coaches had done their job of making men of boys.

The Killeen Kangaroos, led by Coach and Head Athletic Director Gene Rogers and seven returning lettermen from a 7-3 team, came into District 14-AAAA as the team to beat. The seven returning lettermen included four offensive and three defensive starters. Don Hardeman, last year's All-District candidate at halfback; halfback Larry Grant; split-end, Jack Ashworth; and center, Allen Pittman; led the Roo offensive charge while Charles Garrett, Bill Williams, and Charles Spriggs led the defensive starters. Spirit soared as members of Killeen High School prepared for the 1969 season. The Kangaroos traveled to Seguin to meet All-State prospect Cleveland Vann and his "flying circus" and the Roos sent them flying. Total offense for Killeen amassed to 399 yards. Seguin gathered only 241 yards. Halted by the mighty Killeen defense, Vann traveled only 64 yards. Hardeman accounted for 157 yards as the leading ground gainer. Roo supporters rode home thinking of the upcoming battle with the favored 13-AAA winner, Belton Tigers.

Non-district tilts with Gatesville and Sam Houston added to the Roo winnings. District wins with University, Bryan, and Waco High gave the Roos a 7-0 record and 10th in state ratings. Meanwhile the running of Larry Grant and Richard Pena improved as Hardeman nursed an injured ankle. But the unexpected was yet to come.

It simply was not meant to be. Killeen Kangaroos, pre-season favorites, were flying high as they entered the classic clash with the Cleburne Yellow Jackets, and they put up a whale of a tussle. But when the smoke cleared, Cleburne emerged with the district championship. Despite the crushing blow, the Roos returned with vengeance, toppling Richfield, and initiating a comeback against Temple in our final game before falling 18-12. With a few breaks, Killeen Kangaroos could have possibly supplied KHS with a state title.

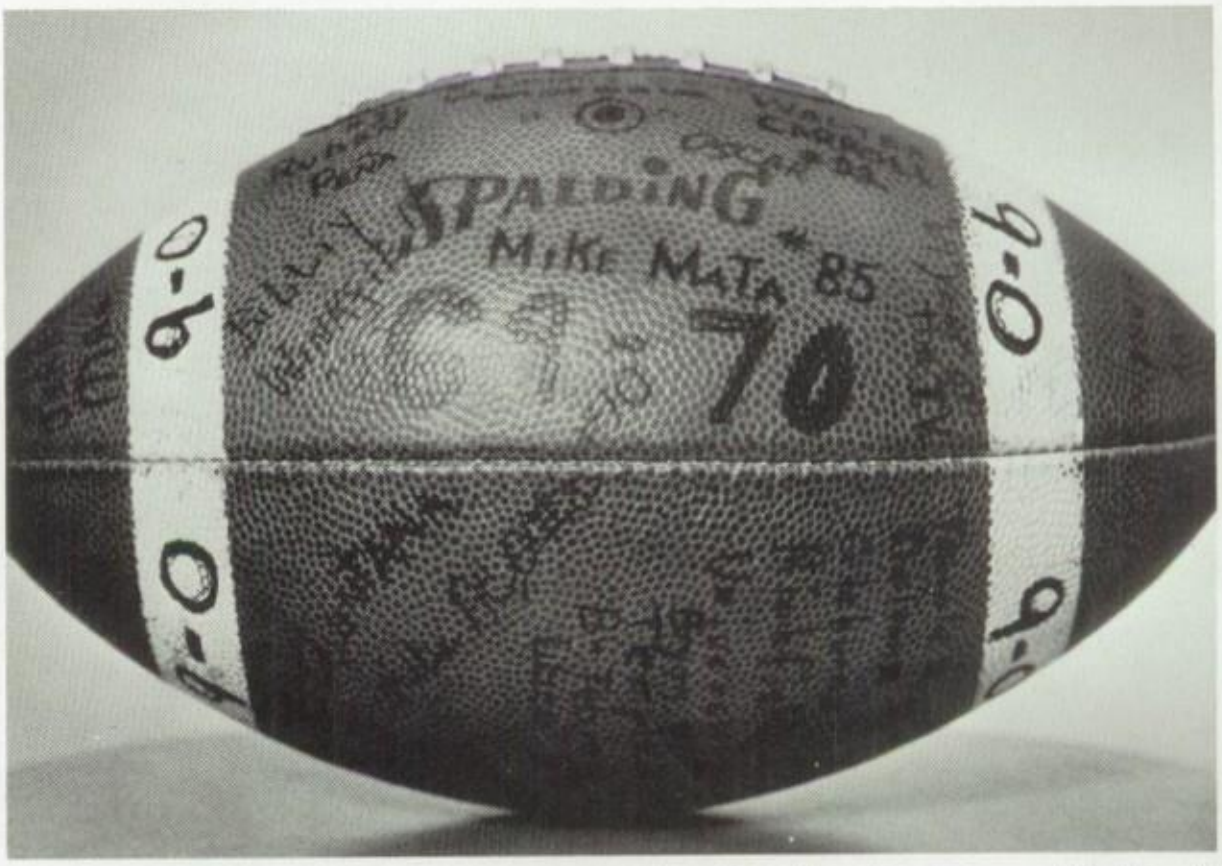
The 1969 Killeen Junior Varsity under the supervision of Coaches Lawrence "Ace" Parker and Ralph Widacki marched to the first undefeated season by any Killeen Junior Varsity football team. Beginning and ending with wins over Temple, the JV's showed Varsity coaches that much is to come this next year. This crop of players was led by Juniors Jerry Smith, Sammy Maze, John Goode, Malcolm Dickinson, and Chuck Johnson. Outstanding sophomore leaders were Roddy Hamilton, Bill Bishop, Dennis Gerik, Walter Carroll, and Billy Winkfield. This is the best season for the coaches after a 17-2 record for two years. One of the prouder moments of the year came when the JV team presented an autographed football to both coaches.



This "sign of success" was presented to Coaches Parker and Widacki in appreciation of the fine job they did in the making of a 9-0 season.

Brotherly love was not known whenever the Killeen Junior Varsity and the B-Roos met. But the JV came through with a 49-13 win.

B-Team

Kicking off is just the beginning of another B-Team win.

Behind a fine group of sophomore prospects and the coaching of Rex Turner, the Killeen B-Roos roared to a 7-2 season, best record ever achieved by a Killeen B-Team. Their only losses were to the Killeen JV and the Waco Richfield B-team. B-Roos mounted a scoring total of 261 points, while their opponents managed only 118. The B-Roos should offer the Varsity many prospects for the Fall 1970.

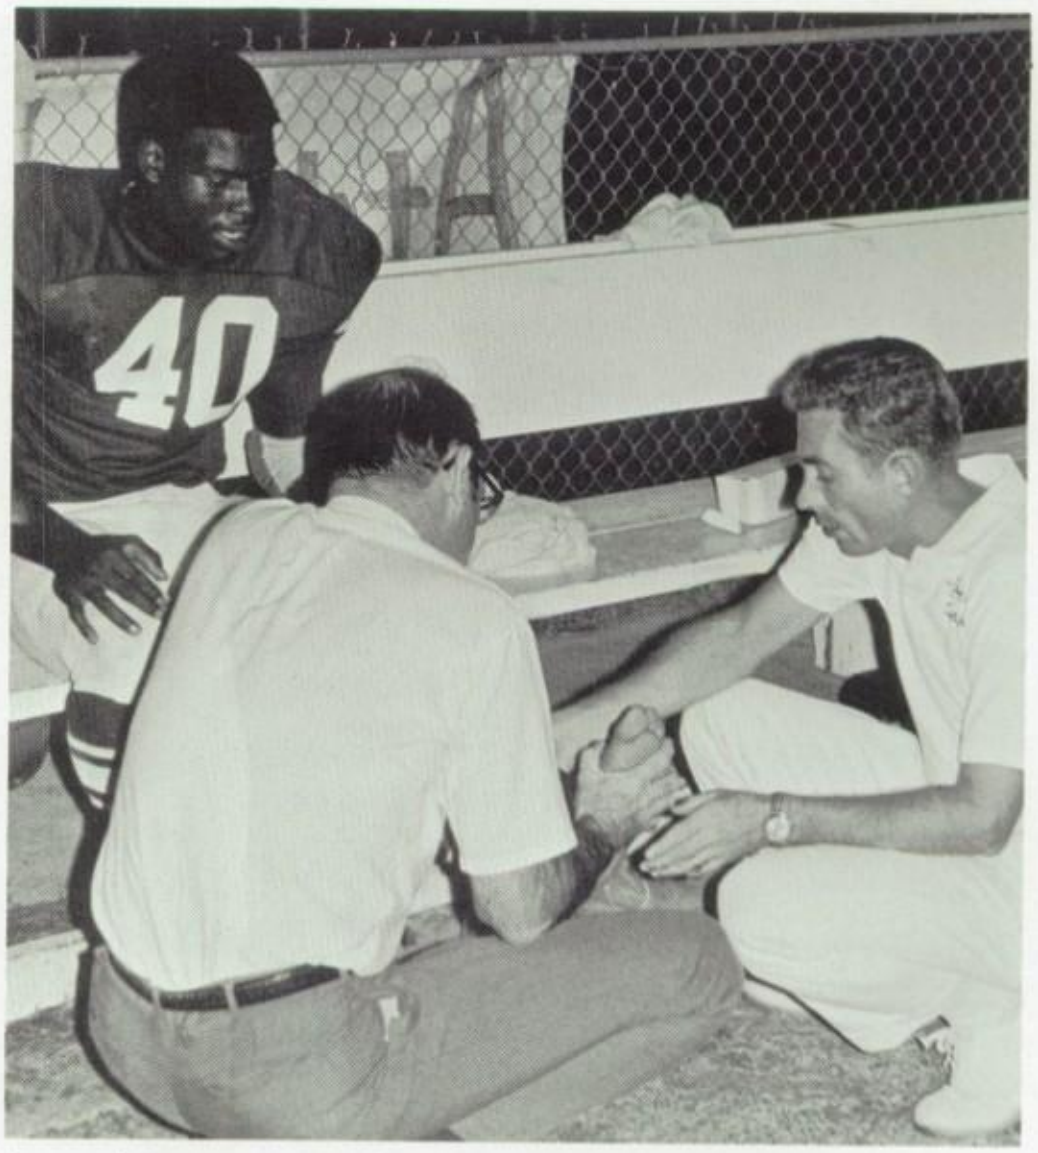
Al Wilson, head trainer at Killeen High School, was backed by three assistant trainers, Sam Forsythe, Frank Dowling, and Johnny Toliver. The assistant trainers attended school during the summer in preparation for the inevitable injuries to come. The Roos had several knee, ankle, and shoulder injuries during the early season. But with the experience gained at summer school, the assistant trainers treated them early to enable the injured Roos to re-enter the action. Varsity managers were Joe Periera and Mike Whiteley. Managers for the Junior Varsity were Chuck Jones and David Sadler while Ed Whiteley served as B-Team Manager. The Managers were under the supervision of Coach John Beseda.



Immediate treatment by Killeen's Trainer Al Wilson allowed Don Hardeman a quick recovery from his early season ankle injury.

Spearheading the spirit charges of KHS for the 1969 season were Becky Hooper, Clare Wood, Marilyn Manfull, Jane Zimmerman, Debbie Bowers, and that "luvable" little Kanga, Jana Arnold. Contrary to popular opinion, cheerleading was not strictly a Friday night task. It all began in the summer at the cheerleaders workshop at Sam Houston, and it continued in school every day of the week. The girls itinerary consisted of painting hall floors, decorating goal posts, painting the buses, and organizing the bonfire and pep rallies. What was being a cheerleader? Well, according to a minority of six, it was great!

Shattered hopes are seen in the face of Kanga, Jana Arnold.

Season Begins

Bo Jackson's Kangaroos, minus the assistance of juniors Jimmy Young and Ted Gregory, came through the first month of scheduled play with a 7-12 record. Roos met several teams from Austin, a cager squad from San Angelo, and Roo rivals Belton and Copperas Cove during predistrict action. The predistrict squad of 3 sophomores, 4 juniors, and 3 seniors gained much experience during the opening 19 encounters. The Roos entered the Temple and San Marcos Invitational Tournaments, gaining the consolation trophy at San Marcos. Coach Jackson and his squadmen looked ahead to their first district game with University.

Defeat comes hard for sophomore Gary Boydstun, exhausted from another Friday night ordeal.

The KHS varsity cagers, after a torrid district start, were cooled by the effects of a four game losing string. The sad part though is not that they lost the games, but that three of them were by such scant margins. In fact, three of the first half losses were by a total of 8 points. With a few breaks, the boys could have owned a 5-1 record. Coach Jackson and his boys looked toward the second half of the campaign with anticipation.

The Roos capped a frustrating season on Tuesday, February 25, by dropping a 54-50 decision to the Wildcats of Temple. Perhaps it was fate, but that score reflected the tenseness of the entire season. Losses are inevitable, but the Roos were bequeathed with so many setbacks by scant margins that you had to stop and wonder. It seemed as if the gods themselves had decreed it so. The effort put out by the players this year provides a ray of hope for the future, as four of five starters will return. Perhaps that old adage, "wait till next year" will apply to our own KHS basketball squad.

Killeen High's B-team, under the direction of Coach Max Graham, attained a 7-5 district record this year. The record, however, failed to reveal the whole story. The B-Roos' losses were by scant margins, and with a little luck, the district slate would have possibly read 11 wins, one loss. Playing on the B-Team provided the invaluable experience for all of the cagers. The knowledge gained from these games will be useful to the players as they strive to earn a spot on next season's varsity squad.

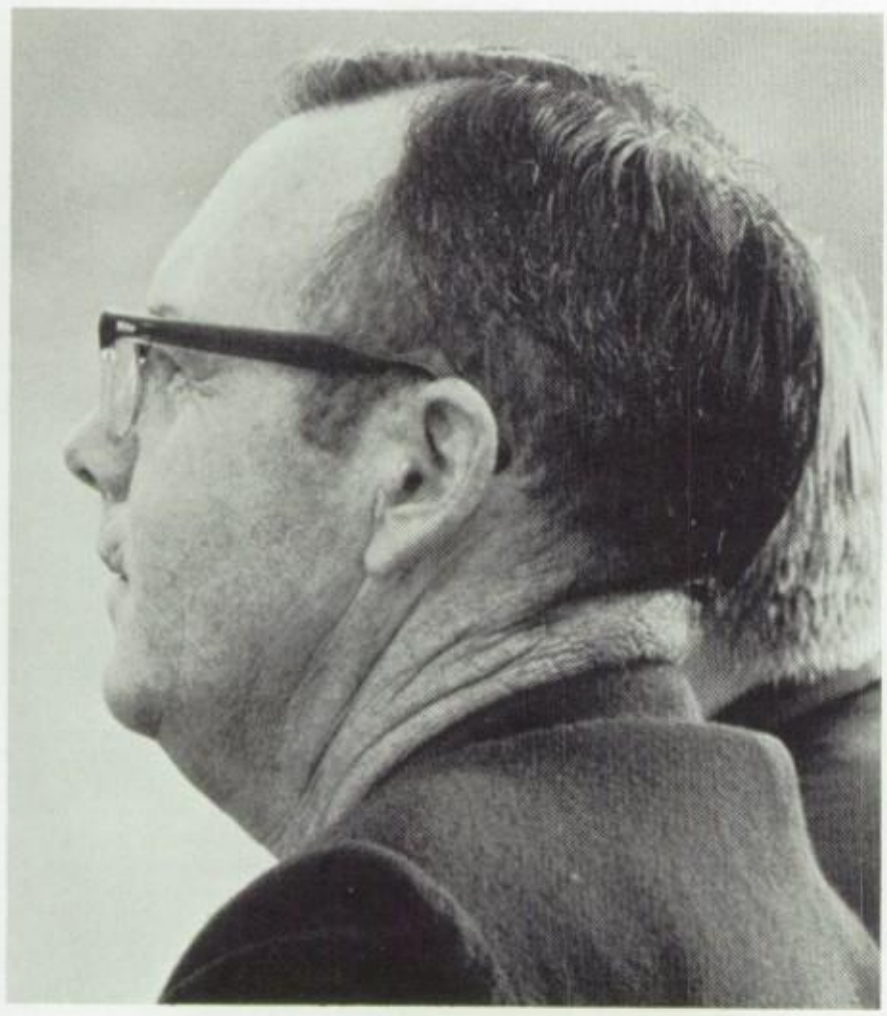
Baseball



Coach Ace Parker

Prospects for the Roos were bright as the 1970 baseball season approached. Several returning lettermen together with Terry Bright, a fine prospect from El Paso, combined to form the nucleus of this year's squad. Add to this some up-and-coming players from last year's B Team, and the Roos were blessed with all the ingredients of a successful season. Although hampered by rain in the early stages of the campaign, Coach Ace Parker's squadmen did manage to work in some practice time. Working out in the gym wasn't exactly fun and games, but the players themselves will tell you it was one of the ingredients of success.

Track

Relying on many returnees from the 1969 track and field squad, Coaches Rex Turner and Ralph Widacki saw their boys developing into what was the best KHS has had in many years. The KHS Mile Relay team, composed of Jerry Acosta, Richard Pena, Theo Johnson, and Chuck Johnson, and a 440 Relay team, composed of Don Hardeman, Jack Ashworth, Theo Johnson, and Pena, proved to be the ones to beat in district. Senior Charles Watts ran the mile for the Roos and Pena, also, ran the 330 hurdles. The 100-yard dash men were mainly composed of members of the Mile and 440 Relay teams. Jimmy Young, last year's district high jump leader, looked to greater heights while Mike Anderson worked on his pole vaulting. Mike Veazey, Steve Franks, Mike Franz, and Dennis Gerik served as the weightmen for Killeen as they shotput and threw the discus in each meet Killeen attended. The KHS track squad was hosted at meets throughout the district during the 1970 season. Killeen tracksters hosted the Killeen Invitational Meet in their new stadium.

Golf

Under the direction of Coach Mike Rose, the KHS Golf team, boasting the largest turnout yet, had high hopes this year. Under a two year building program, many fine golfers shooting in the 70's were developed by Coach Rose. Also lending a hand to the golf squad was U.S. Open Champion, Orville Moody. Coach Rose promised a record year with tournaments played at Austin, Bryan, Lampasas, and Temple.

Miss Roo

"It was always the sort of thing that happens to somebody else. You can't believe the thrill of that 'somebody else' being you." This was Clare Wood's reaction to being named Miss Roo by KHS from thirty-five senior girls. Clare, a cheerleader for the past three years, had also been named Most Beautiful as a sophomore and Best All-Around as a junior. But to Clare being Miss Roo was the culmination of a long dream. Long active in student government, Clare was corresponding secretary for the student council and secretary of the senior class. Rounding out her extra-curricular activities, she was a member of NHS, teen-age chairman of the March of Dimes, and sweetheart for the local chapter of DeMolay. Looking to the future, Clare planned to attend the University of Texas at Austin majoring in interior decorating or data processing.

Miss Roo, Clare Wood and her escort John Miller, finalist Linda Black and her escort Mark Fisher, and finalist Marilyn Manfull and her escort Dick James take time out from the game to smile for the photographer.

Thirty-five senior girls were nominated for Miss Roo and presented to the student body on October 1. From this group three finalists were chosen and honored in homecoming festivities throughout the week of October 13. The thirty-five nominees were Jana Arnold, Brenda Ashworth, Barbara Baker, Patti Bay, Teresa Bay, Linda Black, Gloria Breaux, Susan Bressler, Donna Burke, Peggy Carrozza, Sarah Craig, Linda DiPietro, Connie Eggleston, Debbie Engel, Brenda Fogle, Phyllis Graham, Trudy Henry, Pat Hensley, Sandra Henze, Becky Hooper, Blynthia Jackson, Cynthia Kazmir, Sherian Kelly, Diane M. Seniors Hold Future's Blueprint

"3 - 2 - 1 - 0; We're the Seniors 7 - 0." As that yell reverberated through the halls of Killeen High School, the first class of the seventies graduated and took its place in KHS history. The largest ever, 487, the class of 1970 was also the first to graduate from the new stadium. The class presented a first for the area, "A Different Drummer", an environmental play which involved the audience. As the seniors '70 prepared for the outside world, they ran the gauntlet of aptitude tests, college entrance exams, vocational training, armed forces, and marriage.

Our Age of Enlightenment

Juniors in the Middle of Things

The 1969-70 junior class, 615 strong, proved its capabilities in a variety of ways. It set an all time record in junior candy sales, with 2100 dollars put toward the Junior-Senior Prom. There were also 402 senior rings purchased by this school-spirited class. The junior class had 16 varsity football members with Steve Franks, Henry Hamilton, Don Hardeman, Don Mohler, Mike Veazey, and Paul Westerfield members of the starting line-up. There were also six varsity basketball members with Eric Carlile, Ted Gregory, and Jimmy Young members of the starting lineup. Junior powder puffers girls kept up the sports by defeating the seniors 8 to 0.

Sophomores Anticipate New Goals

This year's sophomore class was one of youthfulness, ambition, and leadership. The sophomores took in stride the many new extra-curricular activities. Varsity sports felt the influence of the talented sophomores. They participated in the many organizations, choirs, and clubs. The sophomores looked to the upcoming years with eagerness and zest. They promised to be outstanding in many of the matters they will try to accomplish in the future.

Margaret,
I have truly enjoyed having you in History this semester.
You are the type of student a teacher enjoys having — Greatly appreciate the extra effort you continually display.
The best of luck to you next year and much happiness to you in the future!

ALMA MATER

We salute our alma mater
And our own Maroon &
White
With that good old Killeen
Spirit
And that good old Killeen
Fight.
We will always work
together
Though we win or though we lose
And we'll raise our voices ever
To the Kangaroos!

SOME WILL LEAVE.

SOME WILL STAY.

BUT NONE WILL FORGET.

To: Margaret
It has been fun knowing you from P.E. & Am. History class. Good Luck in the future. Always Wanda

To Margaret,
To a friend I have enjoyed knowing & see these years. Hope to see you next year. Good luck in the future.

To Margaret, I'm glad I met you & to become acquainted with you. Stay as you are & keep smiling to. Nice as you are & keeping to. Keep the sweet disposition & you'll go far. Keep the smile & you'll go far

KANGAROO

To a very
dear dear mate
in English it is Hasta la vista in the future. Its
been a grand year.
See you soon
